

Health is not an obligation, barometer of worthiness, completely within our control or guaranteed under any circumstances.

People have a right to exist in their bodies. We have the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness and those rights are inalienable – they are not size, health, or healthy habit dependent.

Ragen Chastain

www.danceswithfat.org

